Mr James Balfour of Kinaird having exerc'd the Office of Lyon King at Armes, above the space of 20 years, (viz. from the beginning of 1630, till he was thrust by the usurper Oliver Cromwel) was thereby, together with his careful Collecting, and diligent perusing of a vast number of ancient and curious Manuscripts, very well informed concerning the Records of the Kingdom, relating to ancient Antiquities, and other points of History, whereupon he designed to write Annals of what had passed, and accordingly he wrote two Volumes which are here among these Manuscripts; The first begins at Malcom the third, and ends at the Death of James the sixth. The other begins with King Charles the first, and continues till the year 1642. He designed a third Volume containing the rest of the years of King Charles the first his Reign, but whether or not he finished the same, it is uncertain; However, being a Learned and inquisitive Gentleman, he purchased the vast Collection of Manuscripts, contained in this Catalogue, of all Subjects; History, Matters of State, Herauldry, Philosophy, Medicine, Law, Divinity, &c. Many of them in Parchment, and more Ancient than Printing; severals of them are curiously Gilded and illuminated. Diverse of them are Autographs and Original Papers of latter times, affording thereby great Light to History, and the Transactions of these Times: He left also behind him a large Library of rare and curious Printed Books, a Catalogue whereof will be shortly Printed and publish Advertisment soon when and where these Manuscripts, together with his other Printed Books are to be exposed to publick Sale.
